

11th Winter School in Finno-ugric Studies

Szeged, January 30th – February 4th, 2023

Programme:

	Mon 30	Tue 31	Wed 1	Thu 2	Fri 3	Sat 4
9:30–11	Old Hung.	Old Hung.	Old Hung.	Old Hung.	Old. Hung.	Colloquium
11–11:30	Break	Break	Break	Break	Break	Break
11:30–13	Old Hung.	Old Hung.	Old Hung.	Old Hung.	Old Hung.	Colloquium
13–14:30	Lunch	Lunch	Lunch	Lunch	Lunch	Lunch
14:30–16	Lecture I	WS I	WS II	WS II	Lecture II
16–16:30	Break	Break	Break	Break	Break
16:30–18	WS I	WS I	WS II	WS II	Coll.
Evening		Board meeting	Ugri-Mugri evening		Dinner

Language course: Old Hungarian (Katalin Gugán, Hungarian Research Centre for Linguistics, Budapest)

Workshop I. Mária Sipos (Hungarian Research Centre for Linguistics, Budapest): Working with manuscripts: Analyzing Khanty individual songs from metrical point of view: filler elements (Khanty knowledge is not necessary for the students to participate in this work.)

Workshop II. Alexandre Arkhipov, Aleksandr Riaposov (Universität Hamburg): From a manuscript to a digitally searchable annotated corpus

Guest Lecture I: Zoltán Nagy (University of Pécs): From Finno-ugric ethnography to cultural anthropology

Guest Lecture II: István Povedák (Moholy-Nagy University of Art and Design, Budapest): Did Jesus speak Finno-Ugric languages? The Turkish-Ugric-Finnish-Hungarian-Scythian-Etruscan-Sumer-Syriusian inter-galactic war. Anti-Finno-Ugric conspiracy mentality and everyday nationalism in Hungary