

Prof. Dr. Yaodong GU obtained the PhD degree in the United Kingdom. He is the Dean of the Faculty of Sports Science of Ningbo University, Honorary Professor at the University of Auckland.

His research topics are in the field of biomechanics and sports technology: Developing novel methods to measure the biomechanical mechanisms of lower limb and foot deformation during motion or changes brought about by biomedical treatments; Sports equipment design and prototyping.

The metric data of his science are as follows:

Number of his scientific publications 360, number of monographs and technical books 7, number of technical and/or artistic creations 16, number of independent citations 2961, total Impact factor 1080, H-index 24

Prof. Dr. Yaodong GU has a fruitful collaboration since 2019 with Faculty of Engineering in Szeged.

With the continuous efforts of the candidate, both parties have done substantive work in many fields, such as the joint-supervision of doctoral students, regular exchange visits, and international scientific and technological cooperation.